

Rick has over 30 years of experience in local city governments in Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties. He served over four years as a Deputy City Manager for Development Services for the City of Moreno Valley and as a Community Development Director/Assistant Executive Redevelopment Director for the Cities of Highland and La Puente for eleven years and ten years, respectively. Rick has processed a number of residential, commercial and industrial projects from a few hundred square feet to over 1.8 million square feet.

Rick earned his Bachelor of Science degree in from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, in City and Regional Planning and a Master of Public Administration degree, with an emphasis in Personnel Management, from California State University, Fullerton.

In his home town, Rick is a member of the San Dimas Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and is currently the Chamber's Economic Development Committee Co-Chairman. Rick has donated his time and professional expertise to assist residents, small businesses and churches to resolve business problems and land use issues in the San Dimas area. In his spare time, Rick enjoys outdoor activities with his wife of 39 years of camping, fishing and traveling.