To whom it may concern,

I am a Uptown Whittier resident that has spent a most of her life working, living, and falling in love with our community. Since the pandemic, many parts of Los Angeles county are no longer the thriving areas they once were but Uptown is one of the few exceptions. The reason our small business and restaurants have been able to survive is The Greenleaf Promenade. I beg the city to consider making the Promenade a permanent fixture in our community. From Hadley to Wardman, we have such a rare and unique community of businesses and people that deserve the chance to really shine during such a dark time. I hope once the pandemic is over, the Whittier Promenade becomes a destination for all of Los Angeles and others can fall in love with our city as so many residents already have.

A hopeful and proud resident,
Alyssa Urias
